TOWN LOTS AND LANDS FOR SALE FOR TAXES.

ON MONDAY, JANUARY 5, 1885, (it being County Court day), I will offer for Sale, at the Court-house door, in Hopkinsville, Ky., the following Town Lots and Tracts of Land for State and County Taxes for the years of 1881, 1882, 1883, and 1884. Such Land and Lots as are not sold on January 5, 1885, will be sold in February and March, 1885. We are compelled to close our Tax business. If not paid promptly, we have to sell property, personal and real. C. M. BROWN, S. C.

SOCIALITIES.

"Father time," Kelly's big town clock keeps both the Standard and sun time.

Mr. C. D. Runyon, of Trenton, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ware, of Trenton, attended, the McRoberts-Ware wedding Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harton, of Kirkmansville, were the guest of Mr. A. W. Pyle, this week.

Judge J. B. Campbell, of California, has been visiting relatives here for several days. He formerly lived here and has many warm friends in the city and county.

Mr. J. W. Pritchett has resigned his position with E. W. Henderson to accept a similar one with M. W. Grisam. He had been with Mr. Henderson for four years.

McRoberts-Ware.

Mr. R. E. McRoberts, of Lancaster, Ky., led to the marriage altar last Wednesday, Miss Annie B. Ware, eldest daughter of Dr. R. W. Ware. The ceremony was performed in the Episcopal church shortly after noon, Rev. J. W. Venable officiating. A number of friends of the family were present to witness the marriage, the church being comfortably filled. At 12:15 o'clock the bridal party entered in the following order: Sherwood Buckner and John Burnett and J. As. and Harry Ware, the ushers, the last two the brothers of the bride; after them came the six bridesmaids in couples, viz: Misses Lillie Woodridge and Mary Warfield; Misses Annie Dickinson and Mamie Jesup; Misses Lizzie and May Ware, the latter the bride's sister; then came the bride upon her father's arm. The party ascended the steps and paused in front of the minister and the groom entered from a side door, upon the arm of his friend, Mr. S. A. Walton, of Lancaster. Rev. Mr. Venable then pronounced a short and impressive ceremony, the bridal couple kneeling at the conclusion to receive the invocation of Divine blessing. The ladies were then escorted from the church by the young men who took part and all took carriages for the depot and Mr. and Mrs. McRoberts departed on the south bound train for their future home in Lancaster. On Tuesday evening a select company of invited friends were given a delightful supper at the residence of the bride's father, near the city. The bride received a number of handsome gifts some of which are mentioned below:

LIST OF PRESENTS.

From the groom, diamond bracelet; from the bride's mother, diamond earrings and breast-pin; from the bride's father and brothers, bank check; Miss May Ware, the bride's sister, prayer-book and Bible; Miss Lizzie Ware, silver water service; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ware, silver goblets; Mr. and Mrs. Will Ware, silver jewelry stand; Miss Beulah Ware, hand-painted pottery; relatives in Mississippi, French china berry set; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McGee, point lace and linen table set; Morton McGee, lace wrapper; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wilgus, toilet set; Mrs. T. D. Roberts, handsome quilt; Miss Annie Dickinson, silver card receiver; Miss Mary Warfield, wine set; Miss Lillie Woodridge, silver vase; Miss Mamie Jesup, gold thimble; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Burbridge, silver spoons; Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Waller, half dozen towels; Miss Emily Perry, album.

A large number of friends followed the bridal party to the depot and the newly wedded pair were the recipients of many cordial congratulations and expressions of good will. Mr. McRoberts is a prosperous young druggist, of Lancaster, Garrard county, and his bride is one of Christian's most queenly and intellectual young ladies. May their lives be happily blended and prosperity ever attend them, is our sincere wish.

Hopkinsville Tobacco Market.

The first sale of the season came off on the 3d inst, meeting the highest anticipations of all parties interested in the weed. The prevailing drought shortened receipts, and as a consequence offerings were light. The good tobaccos offered were very much mixed in colors and kinds, but nevertheless they brought highly satisfactory prices. The low grades as indicated by figures in the reports were mostly primings. A full board of buyers attended, both home and foreign, among whom we noticed Messrs Koehler, Cropp, Barnaman, O'Brien, Elliott, Clark, Jarrett, Lowry, Flack, Thompson, Jesup, Wiley, Ware and others, all eager to procure a few samples, as types of the new crop to be forwarded to their principals. The planters were on hand in full force, anxiously watching the outlook and seemed delighted with prices. At no time has the market opened under more favorable circumstances, and since the crop is far better than we have had for a number of years in the Hopkinsville district, a week for a strong market and heavy receipts during the season.

HERE AND THERE.

Howe's time is the city standard.

Corn is very scarce at $2.50 a barrel.

A desirably and centrally located cottage with six rooms, for rent for 1885. Apply here.

A lecture will be delivered at Casky Grange to-day at 2 o'clock, by Mr. T. A. Thompson. Everybody is invited.

Grocerymen should bear in mind that we can furnish them with grocery bags at city prices, and make it to their advantage to deal with us.

We were mistaken in stating that the municipal election would be held to-morrow. It is the second Saturday in December, which will be the 13th.

Hon. T. A. Thompson will deliver a lecture at the Church Hill Grange hall, on Tuesday, Dec. 9th, 1884, at 1 o'clock, p. m. The public is invited to attend.

A. M. HENRY, SECRETARY.

Mr. A. P. Smith, operator at the depot, who was transferred to Springfield, has returned, as his place here could not be filled. We are glad that his transfer was only temporary.

Mr. T. F. Martin has accepted the agency for Christian and Trigg counties, of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, of Newark, N. J. It is one of the very best companies in the country.

The attendants of the Asylum had a hop in the new cottage Tuesday evening. Messrs. Donaldson and son furnished the music. Refreshments were served during the evening and the affair passed off pleasantly.

On Christmas, December 25th, at 2 o'clock P. M., German Lutheran services will be held in the Sunday school room, (basement) of the Southern Presbyterian church, on Nashville street, by Rev. Franz L. Braun.

A small new house owned by Alfred Gant, coal, situated near the Asylum, on the Buttermilk road was burned by an incendiary Monday night. The house had just been completed at a cost of $500 and the owner had not moved into it. There was no insurance.

In this issue will be found an advertisement for the well-known tobacco warehouse of Gant & Gaither, who offer their services to the planters. They are well posted in the different grades of tobacco, and will give their personal attention to the sale of all tobacco entrusted to their care.

Messrs. Abernathy & Co., insert an advertisement of their tobacco warehouse in this issue. They are old and reliable commission merchants who have been identified with the Hopkinsville tobacco market from its infancy and we commend them to our readers as deserving of their fullest confidence and most liberal patronage.

"The Banker's Daughter" was presented at the Opera House Tuesday evening to a good audience. The piece is a highly sensational society play, with a decidedly improbable foundation, but is very entertaining and is presented in an acceptable manner. All of the parts were well represented and the company is an unusually well balanced one.

An entertainment for the benefit of the "Christian Woman's Charity Association" will be given the night of Dec. 18th, at Holland's Opera House. The entertainment will consist of a Christmas cantata entitled "The Birth of Christ." The music in this is very beautiful. The costumes and scenery will be excellent, attractive and appropriate. The entire affair is under the general management of Miss Emily B. Perry which of itself is a surety of success. The season, the character of the piece and the cause are such as to appeal to the best feelings of the whole community and we hope that a crowded house will greet the young people (about 60) who so kindly contribute their talent and labor for a purpose so worthy.

TOBACCO SALES.

Sales by Abernathy & Co., Dec. 3, 1884, of 20 Hhds. Tobacco as follows: 9 Hhds. good to medium leaf, $10 25, 10 00, 9 00, 8 75, 8 25, 7 95, 7 80, 7 60, 7 50.

7 Hhds. lugs, $7 15, 6 00, 5 85, 5 60, 5 50, 5 50, 5 20.

4 Hhds. old leaf and lugs, $7 40, 7 10, 5 60, 5 50.

Sales by Gant & Gaither Dec. 3rd 1884 of 3 Hhds. as follows:

1 Hhd. common leaf $7 90.

1 Hhd. mixed leaf and lugs $7 40.

1 Hhd. medium lugs $7 00.

We had a full board of buyers and prices were fully up to our expectations. If present prices are maintained would advise as early sales as possible. Receipts have been very light owing to the continued dry weather. Next sale Dec. 10th 1884.

Sales by Buckner & Woodridge, 11 Hhds. Tobacco as follows:

5 Hhds. common to good lugs $7 00, 6 75, 6 50, 6 50, 6 35.

5 Hhds. common to medium leaf, $8 10, 8 00, 7 80, 7 55, 7 00, 7 00.

Market opens strong and at fair prices. Sales will continue on regular every week.

Two Old Veterans.

Jesse Stamper, of Lafayette, is the first old veteran to be reported, in response to our recent request, who has been a Democrat since the days of Jackson. He voted for "Old Hickory" in 1832 and for Grover Cleveland last month. Robt. Rives, also of Lafayette, voted for Jackson and intended to vote for Cleveland but was sick on election day and was debarred that pleasure. There must be many others in this county. Send us their names and give their ages and any other facts of interest connected with their careers.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

FAIRVIEW, KY., Dec. 1, '84.

There are some things which are so good in themselves that they are not amenable to change, and one of these is "Thanksgiving day," apropos. Wedding's day, at least so thought our South Christian widower. Time is indeed the great interpreter. He makes known his ways and ways past finding out are brought to the light of the children of men, mysterious things come forth to be proclaimed upon the house-tops of Gatte, and proclaimed in the gates of Aschelou as a common heritage to all, because in the little city of Fairview they are engaged in finding out every new thing, and solving the riddles of old, because, on this auspicious, happy day Mr. D. M. Whittaker led to the Hymeneal altar the Queen of Todd Co's rose-bud garden of girls, the beautiful and accomplished Miss T. Annie Darnall. The ceremony was pronounced by the Rev. H. F. Perry at "The Hall," the bride's residence and immediately after congratulations, the happy pair, with their attendants, were driven to the groom's palatial home near Casky. Few young ladies have been so universally popular, and so deservedly happy, is the noble hero of her choice to be congratulated, Yea, for both let us entwine a wreath of the vine of True Love, interwoven with the Olive of peace, perfumed with Jasmine and Japonica poured forth from the Alabaster box of precious and pleasant remembrances, and crown them! crown them with the white buds of Hope and the fruit of bright anticipation.

Below are a few of the numerous gifts received:

Rev. H. F. Perry, silver cake basket; Mr. Robert Whittaker and sister, silver berry bowl; Miss Marie Darnall, pair silver pickle castors; Miss Beulah Settle, pair handsome flower urns; Mrs. E. H. Barnett, one set silver napkin rings; Miss Sallie Darnall, silver cake basket; Master Willie Hall, one pair of cut glass perfume bottles; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hall, silver and cut glass berry bowl; Mrs. Jno. Fletcher, pair embroidered slippers; Miss Leslie Fletcher, beautiful embroidered pin cushion; Miss Darnall, silver fruit ladle; Miss B. Settle, set embroidered tidies, mats, etc.; Miss Annie Hall, tinsel embroidered pin cushion; Mrs. Bettie Vaughan, a beautiful floral offering.

INCognito.

KENTUCKY KNOWLEDGE.

Eph. S. Dudderar dropped dead in Lincoln county.

J. M. Mushet, a photographer, committed suicide at Lexington.

In a free fight at a negro dance near Upton, Taylor Phillips and Rafe Howard were killed.

Hill, Fletcher & Co., a big Main street notion house of Louisville, made an assignment Tuesday.

Joe Lee has been elected Mayor and J. T. Griffith marshal of Owensboro. Both Democrats.

Lee Wigginton fatally wounded Dave Anderson at Mt. Sterling. Wigginton was also badly shot in the thigh by his adversary.

Fifty tobacco barns, whose contents were worth $400,000, have been burned by incendiaries in Central Kentucky since the crop was housed.

In the Louisville city election Monday Broker Reed, Dem., defeated J. W. McGee, Dem., by 8,490 majority. Local option was defeated by 5,971 majority.

The Owensboro Messenger is publishing "Lonz Power," a Christian County romance, written by James Weir, as a continued story.

Nine prisoners escaped from the Bowling Green jail Tuesday night. They sawed out with a saw furnished by friends on the outside.

The editors of the Owensboro Messenger are turning their talents in the direction of fish stories. The latest is the capture of a cat-fish weighing 62 pounds, from the Ohio river.

A negro boy in Owensboro played "Buffalo Bill" and lassoed a live cow with a rope tied around his waist.

After being dragged a hundred yards the rope broke and saved his life.

Roland L. Tayleure, manager of the Lillian Olcott Company, was discharged in Louisville Tuesday by Miss Olcott and in turn sued her for his salary for the season.

Mr. Givan attempted to put his son, Marion, on the platform of a moving train at Newport, but missed his footing and the boy fell on the track and was instantly killed.

Flippin, Monroe county, is reported all torn up over a threatened rummage between Democrats and Republicans. It is said that the night of the ratification here a gentleman by the name of Flowers carried a Cleveland and Hendricks flag home to Flippin with him. Commemorating his celebration here, he stuck the flag up on a pole in the street. That night some one took the flag down; the next night Flowers again elevated it. This time it was taken down, the flag torn up and the pole cut to pieces.

The citizens took part in the row, and considerable bad feeling was created. Flowers threatened to sue the parties who had cut his flag and pole. Friday last, the sheriff was at Flippin on a tax-collecting expedition, and a good many people gathered in. Our informant states that they began to take sides and for a while there was bright prospect for war on a small scale. Fortunately a difficulty was averted, but there is still a good deal of bad-feeling over the matter, and a row may yet result.—Glasgow Times.

A MYSTERY.

"My dear," said Smithers to his wife, "what gentleman of this community continually attracts a preponderance of the public attention?" And when Mrs. Smithers had given it up, he told her, "A Mr. E. to be sure." His wife says it is a Mr. E. to her that Smithers hasn't landed in a lunatic asylum or the Pennsylvania Legislature long ago.—Oil City Derrick.

THERE is a remarkable family of seven brothers and two sisters residing within short distances of one another in Oswego county, N. Y., remarkable in point of longevity, their united ages being 672 years, and their circle never having been invaded by death.

Last Monday was county court day. A small crowd was in town.

An unknown tramp was killed by the cars near Bowling Green, Monday.

ESTRAY NOTICE.

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS is an unfailing specific for all complaints arising from a derangement of the functions of the Liver. It purifies the blood and infuses new life into the invalid. Pains in the side, general uneasiness, loss of appetite, headache, bilious attacks, &c., &c., are sure indications that corrective is needed. PRICKLY ASH BITTERS is especially adapted for these complaints. It arouses a torpid liver to action and restores it to a healthy condition. nov4lm

DAVID B. HILL.

THE NEXT GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK STATE.

The election of Governor Cleveland, of New York, to the Presidency, makes it necessary for him to resign his present position some time previous to March 4 next. This will make David B. Hill, now Lieutenant-Governor of the Empire State, its Governor.

He was born in Chemung county, New York, in 1843. At an early age he manifested great interest in politics and gave his allegiance to the Democratic party. In 1864 he was admitted to the Bar in Elmira where he then resided, and of which he has continued to be an honored citizen. He was elected a member of the Assembly in 1870, and again in 1871. In his first term he succeeded in passing through the Assembly a bill for the abolition of the contract system in the State prison. It was subsequently killed in the Senate. When in 1875, Governor Tilden appointed him member of a commission to provide a uniform charter for the cities of the State, he declined on account of pressing professional work. Elmira has made him an Alderman and later the Mayor of that flourishing city.

Mr. Hill is an old bachelor, peculiar in his habits, regular as clock-work, and, it is stated, rather unpleasant to otherwise with the promotion awaiting him. He lives in the Chemung Canal Bank Building, Elmira, and dislikes the idea of leaving his snug quarters to make his abode in the splendid Executive Mansion in Albany. His parents are both dead, and he has no sisters. That he should be necessitated to keep house and entertain on a grand scale in his lonesome condition, appears less surprising in the light of these facts. The ladies are wondering what the poor man will do. Mr. Hill is a good lawyer, and a politician of experience and sagacity. His chief recreations are music and the drama.

The next Governor of New York is a man of medium height. He wears a tight coat which shows his compact figure to advantage. His head is a good example of the "bald brow of a bachelor."

Hiram's Reflections.

Thank God at last, the exultant shout of the victor has died out in the distance, the sober second thought has come to the people, and the election with its wild frenzied scenes is over. There is no doubt, but I am the oftener and best crowded over man in this county. Everybody knew I was present when James G. Blaine was nominated at Chicago and everybody knew I believed in him from the crown of his head to the sole of his foot. And I honestly believe to-night, notwithstanding he led a forlorn hope, and his banner trails in the dust, that he is the grandest and greatest uninspired man whose footprints ever marked the earth. Yea verily, take the inspiration from him who could say to the tempest "be still, and let the winds follow me like a dog" and Blaine is the greater. The town boys crowded until their leader growing sorry for me cried "hold enough" and after I thought it was all over here came my friend Davenport from Crofton like a raging, roaring, remorseless tornado and marching into my office he tossed his hat high into the air and fairly made the welkin ring. The very children upon my street "mewling" in their mother's arms would raise their tender heads and shout as I would pass to and fro "hurrah for Cleveland!" of course I regret that Mr. Blaine is beaten; yet his election would have brought no chicken pie to me. If I ever get a slice from this delectable dish it will come through my strong right arm and it is still left me and the young man in my humble opinion who stands proudly aloof depending on anything else will be left. After all, this is our country, and there is room enough in it for all politicians, and place-seekers may rant and rave, and talk of humbug, glories, motionless shuttles, spindles, furnaces and unoccupied rooms; yea may write of gloom, despair and bats, but this country will live and flourish and grow green and greener still. Misfortunes have, and may still come to individuals, sweeping away at one full swoop the accumulations of years; but the great mass of these people will thrive and be happy. It makes no difference who is President. The skies will overspread us and be just as blue, the grass will at each return of spring-time spring up and be just as green as ever, birds will flit above us, God and Heaven will be just as near us and the memory of saluted lost ones just as dear to us as ever. I have no patience with the man who would attempt to shadow the happiness of any man, black or white, by taking to him of ruin that is to come, because of the election of Cleveland. Of course I believe in the Republican party, know it to be the party of proud memories and glorious aspirations, yet I am not now, nor never was the man to believe that because a man differed from me about politics that he was a knave and a fool.

It will not do to come to the conclusion that because other people do not see a thing as we do, that they are incompetent to understand matter; men may differ, a widely as the heavens are from the earth, and yet neither of them be fools. I never could understand how men could row so much bitterness into their lives about anything. I can see how a man may be so crowded and overworked and tempest tossed by every wind of fortune until it is a relief to him to lay down and die and end his troubles; but how a man in this great sunny world, with its beautiful birds and flowers, its lakes and rivers and its happy homes, in good health and good fortune can grow envious and jealous and snap and snarl at everything is more than I have dreamed of in my philosophy. I have loved a great many things with all the earnestness of my nature and of course like other people have lost a good many things that were near and dear to me and yet I honestly aver and declare I never felt for one moment a pang of envy or jealousy toward any man who was more fortunate than myself. But enough.

HIRAM.

What It Does.

Almost every lady habitually uses some kind of hair dressing. It is a toilet necessity. Parker's Hair Balm is the best, because it gives gloss and softness; arrests falling out; does not soil the most delicate fabric; is deliciously perfumed; cools the head; eradicates dandruff, and promotes a luxuriant growth.

A THREATENED VISITATION OF CHOLERA.

State Board of Health of Kentucky.

Office of the Secretary,

Bowling Green, Ky., Nov. 25, 1884.

To the Health Officials of Kentucky:

During the month of August last, this Board addressed you a circular letter advising you of the prevalence of Asiatic cholera in Europe, and of the fact that it had never prevailed there as an epidemic without reaching our shores, and urging upon you in the strongest terms to use every means in your power for the improvement of the sanitary condition of the territory under your jurisdiction as the best known local method of preventing this disease. Since that letter was sent out the disease has gradually spread in Europe, and the epidemic has now reached such proportions as to constantly threaten invasion of this country.

In view of the imminent public danger the National Conference of State Boards of Health has called a meeting, to be held at Washington, D. C., December 10th, to which have been invited the quarantine officers and the health officers of the principal ports of the United States and Canada for conference in regard to the sanitary condition and regulations of the localities which each of these delegates will represent, and in order to secure co-operation and concert of action between all the health boards of this country in preventing or mitigating the horrors of an epidemic.

It is again urged upon you that cholera is a filthy disease. It usually has its starting point and is always far more fatal in the filthy, neglected quarters of cities and towns, and such quarters under your jurisdiction should receive prompt and continuous attention. We would suggest that sanitary inspectors be appointed in every city, town and village in the State, whose duty it shall be to visit every house, point out any source of disease that may exist, and urge and, if necessary, enforce the removal of same. The water supply, vaults, cellars, drains, back-yards and alleys should receive special attention. Our laws confer ample power on you for this work, and it is believed that the necessary funds can be secured by properly representing its importance and practicability to the city and town authorities or the county courts. The responsibility is on you until you faithfully attempt to do your duty, and if you fail, and cholera comes you will have shifted the responsibility to other shoulders.

This work should be begun at once. It will be too late after the disease is in our midst, as the cities and towns of France and Italy have found to their cost. Panics can only be prevented by intelligent efforts to prevent the location and to limit the spread of the disease. Confidence will be inspired by every effort that you make in this direction and in this work you cannot fail to receive the support of every intelligent citizen of the community.

It will be well, too, for the public to understand that the labor and money expended in this work will not be lost whether cholera comes or not. The same unfavorable local conditions which will enable cholera to spread if its infective germs are imported into this State, are the same conditions which day after day cause and spread other preventable diseases, such as diphtheria, typhoid and scarlet fever and other fifth diseases, which, through less alarming, because they are more common and slower in their work, are far more destructive to life. The threatened invasion of cholera will prove a benefit, if, in preparing for it we remove the causes of these diseases, which produce a hundred fold greater mortality in Kentucky than cholera, and in doing so instruct our people that the same better habits and methods of living, which will prepare them to resist cholera, will also protect them against our more fatal every day plagues.

In order that this Board may have the knowledge which it should possess of the sanitary status of every section of the State, and that its delegates may be in position to inform the Conference what preparation has been made in this State to resist cholera, you are requested to call a meeting of your board at the earliest convenient day and report to us what steps have been taken by you or the citizens of your community, looking to the removal of the unfavorable sanitary conditions which favor the location and spread of this disease.

Treatment of Cancer.

For twenty years I have suffered from a cancer on the side of my neck near the shoulder, and exhausted the whole catalogue of remedies without any relief. The cancer growing worse all the time, the whole upper part of my body became stiff and full of pain. I had virtually lost the use of both arms, my general health had broken down and I saw it was only a question of time when life itself would be destroyed. In this condition I commenced the use of Swift's Specific. The first bottle relieved me of the stiffness in the neck, the second gave me perfect use of my arms, and I feel strong and well in every way. I am a poor man but I would not take $5,000 for the good I have experienced with Swift's Specific. I believe it will force out all the poison and cure me.
